It provides a comprehensive overview of each university in New Zealand and a clear pathway for individuals to be able to choose a compatible subject, find the right programme and apply to the most suitable university.

Making the transition from secondary school to university is often an uncertain time so in this publication, the reader is guided through the university structure and way of life. It should assist any student to make a smooth transition and to get the most out of their time at university.

About the group

The New Zealand University Guide Group was formed as a response to a perceived lack of non-government organisations working towards good quality tertiary education in New Zealand. The group has recently launched an interactive website www.nzuniguide.com which aims to solicit feedback and to become a hub of online activity around the subject of tertiary education in New Zealand.

The NZUG Group is made up of committed individuals who have worked for many years in the tertiary education sector. The experience and wealth of knowledge they bring to the Group's projects is extensive.

This is NZUGG's first book.
